NEW AND RE-RELEASES

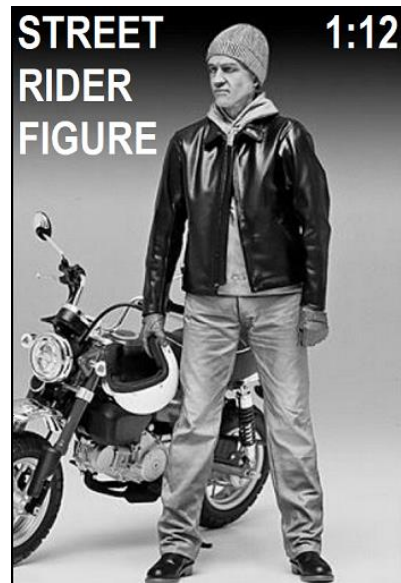

We are getting to this time of the year when all the manufacturers are rushing to get new goodies to the market in time for the spending (ie. festive) season.

The new Tamiya Toyota GR Supra is "semi-official" (it is mentioned on tamiyausa.com, but no Tamiya box-art yet). Production is said to start in February 2020.

The re-release of the Mazda 787B is eagerly awaited by racing and Mazda fans alike – and we are likely to see it before the Supra.

Motorcycle modellers can look forward to a 1:12 Street Rider Figure, although he looks kinda "seventies" to me!

There appears to be a resurgence in 1:32 scale modelling, led by the Japanese. Both Arie and Aoshima have a large range and Aoshima recently announced these in a variety of shiny colours. They will also be perfect for converting to slot-cars. Expect to pay around R290 to R300 each.

--- SEE PAGE TWO FOR MORE NEW RELEASES ---

We will be taking a short vacation from Wednesday 4th to Tuesday 10th Sept. The shop will be closed and we won't be able to dispatch any parcels. However, the website will remain fully functional and we can accept orders during this time.

NEW EBBRO KITS IN STOCK

We've finally received our consignment of Ebbro kits. If you don't know the brand, they specialise in high-end kits of 1:20 Formula One and 1:24 French cars (usually the wacky stuff)!

Despite a price increase between when we announced them and when we received them, we have maintained our launch prices - PLUS you get 10% discount on all Ebbro kits ordered during September.

You will find our full Ebbro stock on our website under the "New Arrivals" page.

CUSTOM DISPLAY BASES

You may recall that we received this cool display base for the Toyota TS050 two months ago. We are working on a plan to get a few more in October. We are trying to get the price down to around the R220 mark and we may have other designs as well. We'll keep you posted.
