

SMALLTALK MODEL SUPPLIES TRADING ONLINE AS GRUMPY'S BAZAAR

SEPTEMBER 2019

INBOUND GOODIES

The new Tamiya 1:24 Toyota GR Supra is now official. No pricing yet, but I'm expecting around the R700 mark before any discount. Don't clear your workbenches yet, because production only starts in January. Thanks to everyone who pre-ordered the kit (there will be a decent discount for you). We've been allocated 12 units from the initial run and we've pre-sold 9 of them. So, if you still want one, let me know ASAP.

TBA

The other hot news is the announcement (with pricing) of the Nunu E46 racing BMW. It has been on our website for a month now, with no-one ordering any - so I have just taken two units. I can still increase my order, so let me know if you are interested. Production starts in October, so expect us to have them ready to ship to you close to the end of November.

The following have also been announced from the Far East. The Aoshima-Beemax is interesting because (unless I was not listening in class) it is only their second 1:20 scale Formula 1 kit, after the McLaren MP4/2B '85 Monaco GP version. Orders are going in this week – you know what to do.

HELLERS & REVELL-AGS

We have a few cool oldies (and not so oldies) landing in the first week of October. We have tried to keep the prices as reasonable as possible - and there is only one of each on the way. So "first-come-first-served" will definitely apply.
